

The diagram shows a horizontal rectangle representing an IP packet. The left portion of the rectangle is labeled 'IP' and is separated from the right portion, labeled 'Data', by a vertical line. Below the 'IP' section, a vertical line extends downwards, with four horizontal tick marks pointing to the labels 'Version', 'Header Length', '...', and 'Destination Address'.

IP

Data

Version

Header Length

...

Destination Address